The Fund's performance is calculated on a NAV-to-NAV basis on the assumption that all dividend distributions made by the Fund are re-invested.

The Fund aims to mirror the performance of FTSE/ASEAN 40 Index (the "Index"), using full replication strategy, that involves investing in all index securities in substantially the same proportion or weighting as the Index.

The Index is a tradable index launched by FTSE in conjunction with 5 ASEAN Exchanges - PT Bursa Efek Jakarta (Jakarta Stock Exchange), Bursa Malaysia Berhad, The Philippine Stock Exchange, Inc., Singapore Exchange Securities Trading Limited (SGX-ST) and The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET). The Fund is the first collaborative effort amongst the 5 Exchanges under the ASEAN umbrella. The Index represents the performance of the 40 largest stocks of the 5 Exchanges and is subject to rigorous ground rules such as free float adjustment and liquidity screening to ensure that these stocks are highly investable. The transparent and freely available index rules are governed and maintained by an independent committee of leading market professionals.

MANAGER'S INVESTMENT REPORT

For the six months ended 30 June 2015

Performance (continued)

From 1 January 2015 to 30 June 2015, the NAV of the Fund decreased by 6.37%, while the value of the Index decreased by 6.90%.

The top 10 holdings of the Fund as of 30 June 2015 represented US$22,288,897 approximately 50.26% of the Fund's NAV, while it was US$22,343,136 as of 30 June 2014, 46.13% of the Fund's NAV.

In the first quarter of 2015, commodity prices underwent a significant correction. However, Asian markets rallied during the period, helped by monetary easing in India, Australia and China. The rally was further supported by dovish statements by Janet Yellen (US Federal Reserve Chairman) following the US Federal Reserve meeting in March 2015.

In the second quarter of 2015, markets reversed the gains posted in the previous months as investors reacted to slowing macroeconomic growth data, weak corporate earnings and the prospect of rising interest rates in the United States. Export headwinds continued to linger into the second quarter, and a recovery could be elusive, as besides the United States, the other G3 economies and China may continue to be a drag. The month of April 2015 also saw outflows from the ASEAN markets to North Asia, especially China. Euphoria over reform agendas of the "new governments" in Indonesia and Thailand have dissipated. We hope to see investment flows into ASEAN improve in the second half of 2015, as governments act more aggressively to revive growth, albeit at a gradual pace.
