The Fund aims to mirror the performance of FTSE/ASEAN 40 Index (the "Index"), using full replication strategy, that involves investing in all index securities in substantially the same proportion or weighting as the Index. The Fund also invests in the Index Return ASEAN Access Product ("IRAAP"). The IRAAP is linked to the performance of the Index itself. The final settlement price of each IRAAP is determined by reference to the actual closing price of the Index plus any applicable accumulated dividends, less any applicable expenses.

The Index is a tradable index launched by FTSE in conjunction with 5 ASEAN Exchanges - PT Bursa Efek Jakarta (Jakarta Stock Exchange), Bursa Malaysia Berhad, The Philippine Stock Exchange, Inc., Singapore Exchange Securities Trading Limited (SGX-ST) and The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET). The Fund is the first collaborative effort amongst the 5 Exchanges under the ASEAN umbrella. The Index represents the performance of the 40 largest stocks of the 5 Exchanges and is subject to rigorous ground rules such as free float adjustment and liquidity screening to ensure that these stocks are highly investable. The transparent and freely available index rules are governed and maintained by an independent committee of leading market professionals.

MANAGER'S INVESTMENT REPORT

Performance (continued)

From 1 January 2008 to 30 June 2008, the Fund lost 9.20%, while the Index lost 10.16%.

The Asean-5 economy faced increasing challenges in 1H 2008 as oil raced to record highs and inflation shot northwards. Nevertheless, the real GDP forecasts for 2008 of Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia and Philippines are still buoyant at 5.3%, 5.4%, 4.9%, 6.1% and 5.8% respectively.

ASEAN-5 economies addressed rising inflation pressures by tightening monetary policy as well as cutting fuel subsidies. Unlike the Asian crisis, ASEAN-5 economies now enjoy strong foreign reserves and balance of payment surpluses. The strong reserves position should help to reduce the vulnerability of the domestic economy to any external shocks. For instance, although Indonesia's fiscal balance is expected to remain in deficit, continued strong balance of payments (BOP) surplus have seen its foreign reserves record US$57.5bn at end-May 2008. Malaysia started 2008 strongly with a 7.1% growth in 1Q08. Inflation rose by 2.6% in 1Q08, stoked by soaring food prices. With price hikes of between 41% and 63% for fuel prices, inflation rose to 7.7% in Jun 08. On a positive note, the removal of fuel subsidies is good for the fiscal budget over time. In Philippines, exports grew at the slowest pace in six months in April as manufacturers bought fewer electronics parts. Inflation accelerated to the fastest in more than nine years in May on surging oil and food prices. The Philippines central bank raised rates by 25bps to 5.25%, its first increase in more than two years. Similarly, in Singapore, inflationary pressures remain high. CPI in Jun 08 increased by 7.5% y-o-y, a 26-year high. However, the government is still maintaining its GDP forecast range of 4.0% to 6.0% for 2008, largely on convictions of the resilience of the domestic economy. In Thailand, rising inflation risks have given the Bank of Thailand less flexibility in managing monetary policy amid a projected moderating of growth in 2H08. On the other hand, Thailand's Finance Minister said that inflation had peaked and added that he planned further stimulus measures to keep economic growth on track.

The top 10 holdings of the Fund as of 30 June 2008 represented US$ 65,759,532, approximately 49.75% of the Fund's net asset, while it was US$ 88,625,405 as of 30 June 2007, 50.79% of the Fund.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued)

(g) Income taxes

Current income tax liabilities (and assets) for current periods are recognised at the amounts expected to be paid to (or recovered from) the tax authorities, using the tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred income tax assets/liabilities are recognised for all deductible taxable temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements except when the deferred income tax assets/liabilities arise from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and at the time of the transaction, affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss.

Deferred income tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at:

- (i) the tax rates that are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date; and
- (ii) the tax consequence that would follow from the manner in which the Fund expects, at the balance sheet date, to recover or settle the carrying amounts of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred income tax are recognised as income or expenses in the Statement of Total Return for the period.

(h) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Fund has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is more likely than not that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount has been reliably estimated.

(i) Distribution

The Manager may in its absolute discretion decide to distribute income to unitholders at such times as it may determine in each financial year. The amount to be distributed to unitholders will be derived from the net income of the Fund. Distributions will only be paid to the extent that they are available for distribution pursuant to the Trust Deed.

8. Financial risk management

The Manager continually monitors the Fund's exposure to risk and appropriate procedures are in place to manage the risks.

(a) Market risk

Market risk is the risk of potential adverse changes to the value of financial investments because of changes in market conditions like interest and currency rate movements and volatility in security prices. The Fund is designated to track the performance of the FTSE/ASEAN 40 Index, therefore the exposure to market risk in the Fund will be substantially the same as the FTSE/ASEAN 40 Index. As an indexed fund, the Manager manages the Fund's exposure to market risk by ensuring that the key characteristics of the portfolio, such as security weight and industry weight, is closely aligned to the FTSE/ASEAN 40 Index characteristics.

CIMB FTSE ASEAN 40*(Constituted under a Trust Deed in the Republic of Singapore)NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTSFor the six months ended 30 June 2008 (Unaudited)8. Financial risk management (continued)*(b) Interest rate risk

The Fund's financial assets and liabilities are largely non-interest bearing. Hence, the Fund is not subject to risk of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates.

(c) Liquidity risk

The Fund is exposed to daily cash redemptions and disbursements for the settlements of purchases. The Manager therefore ensures that the Fund maintains sufficient cash and cash equivalents and that it is able to obtain cash from the sale of investments held to meet its liquidity requirements. Reasonable efforts will be taken to invest in securities which are traded in a relatively active market and which can be readily disposed of.

The Fund's investments listed securities are considered to be readily realisable as they are listed on established regional stock exchanges.

The Manager may employ derivatives to implement a portfolio strategy, to reduce risk or for the purpose of efficient portfolio management. Market liquidity of complex derivatives are significantly less than traditional investment instruments and such positions may therefore require a longer time to reverse than would be typically be expected for traditional investment instruments. No such investments were held at the balance sheet date.

(d) Foreign currency risk

The Fund holds assets denominated in currencies other than US dollars, the functional currency. The Fund is therefore exposed to currency risk, as the value of the securities denominated in other currencies will fluctuate due to changes in exchange rates. The Fund's policy is not to enter into any currency hedging transactions.

The table below summarises the Fund's exposure to currency risks.
